Dear Roger,

I find that I have never acknowledged your letter of 28th August which arrived while I was on leave, but since I came back I have been involved in many things, as you will I am sure appreciate. Please accept my apologies.

I am indeed glad that you do not see any reason for drastic alterations in the plans for our coordination committee meeting, as I think it will be timely to have one in the near future, STAT and from our point of view the date you suggest around 1st December will be very suitable. I will let you have in the near future a note of certain things which I would wish to be discussed, and perhaps you could let me know what points you will have to raise.

[redacted] on his return from Washington, tells me that [redacted] has four Collins Receivers available following the STAT conversations which I had with you and him the last time you were both over here. I readily confirm that we are in need of these receivers which we see no prospect of being able to procure over here, in view of currency difficulties; and I would be most grateful if you were able to make them available to us on a long term loan basis. We would, of course, undertake to keep them operationally efficient, and to return them to you on demand at any time.

Yours sincerely,

J. T. Campbell
